TOMB No. 15.

Tomb of Baqt [III.] (vide detailed description, p. 41).

TOMB No. 16.

Apparently finished, but with no paintings or inscriptions. Architecturally of the same type as No. 15, but smaller and with seven mummy-pits.

TOMB No. 17.

Tomb of Khety (vide detailed description, p. 51).

TOMB No. 18.

Unfinished (see Pls. xx. and xxi.). The floor of the front part of the main chamber is not excavated to the full depth. The façade of the tomb is cut in the side of the cliff, and in this is hewn a plain doorway without architectural features. The plan of the main chamber (vide Pl. xxi.) is complicated by an extension on the south side commencing at eight feet ten inches from the south-west corner. The eastern end is divided transversely by three rows of columns supporting plain architraves; and another architrave, supported by a similar column, continues the original line of the South wall as far as the first of the three transverse architraves. Five of the columns on the north-east (viz., Nos. 1-3, and 5, 6) are now destroyed, but the remaining ones (viz., Nos. 4, and 7-10), which are all unfinished, still exist. The bases were apparently intended to be circular and similar to those of the columns in the tomb of Khety (No. 17). There are three mummy-pits. No paintings or inscriptions. The unsymmetrical plan of the tomb is due to the fact that the engineers were cramped for space, owing to a small tomb (No. 19) having already been excavated on the south side (vide Sketch Survey, Beni Hasan, Part I., Pl. ii., Nos. 18 and 19).
